

Reprint Requirements for Articles Published by FINDRE

Thank you for your interest in reprinting articles published by Matt Hern and FINDRE.
Thank you also for respecting copyright by requesting permission.

We are delighted to offer you complimentary reprint rights with the following conditions.
(This list may look long but they are really easy to comply with. It's just long because of the requirements of Financial Services Regulations.)

The Essentials

- ✓ The Acknowledgement Notice (detailed below) must be included in full with each article.
- ✓ No editing of the articles is permitted
- ✓ Reprint rights do not apply to any of our educational programs or paid-for products like books, audios and e-courses.

Other Points to Help You

- ✓ If editing is required to fit the article into a fixed space please contact us and we will edit the article.
- ✓ If you are reprinting an article over six months after its original publication date (for example a newsletter article) please contact us to ensure the information is current.
- ✓ If you are reprinting an article from our website or newsletter and links are included in the article please contact us for a full URL of the link.

We would greatly appreciate a courtesy copy of the publication in which each article is reprinted. Please send it to FINDRE at the contact details below. This may be done post-publication.

Acknowledgement Notice

The text within the following box must be included in full at the conclusion of each reprint of the article.
